Open Portals: May They Never Close

At a time when the great question of world disarmament is engaging the attention of the leading nations, and on the eve of the assembling of the Washington Conference to deal with the subject, it was most appropriate that some tangible recognition of the world's greatest experiment in disarmament should be made. This was done on September 6th on the Canada-United States border between the Province of British Columbia and the State of Washington when the gates of the great International Peace Arch, erected at a cost of $40,000, were thrown open at an impressive ceremony.

This magnificent Peace Arch commemorates one hundred years of peace between Great Britain and the United States. Following the war of 1812, a peace treaty was signed at Ghent, Belgium, on December 24, 1814, and by the provisions of that treaty it was provided that neither Great Britain nor the United States should erect fortifications along the boundary line between their respective territories, nor would either country maintain vessels of war on the Great Lakes. In other words, it was mutually agreed that along the whole 3,000 mile boundary neither country would make or maintain any warlike preparation against the other. Both countries disarmed absolutely so far as they were concerned.

For over one hundred years that pact has been kept unbroken despite the many complex questions and differences of opinion which have at various times arisen between the two nations, as it is inevitable they should develop where there is so much in common and where the interests of one is bound on occasion to clash with the interests of the other.

But if the two wealthiest and most powerful nations in the world, both financially and commercially aggressive, could wholly disarm in so far as the relations of one to the other were concerned, surely it is within the field of practical international politics for all the great nations to follow their example, and thereby not only relieve their people from the crushing burden of armaments but remove the greatest of all incentives to war, namely, active preparation for it, leading to a rivalry in warlike preparation which cannot but finally end in putting these great machines of destruction to the use for which they were built up.

Imagine what the cost to Great Britain, Canada and the United States would have been during the past one hundred years if each had maintained great fortifications along a 3,000 mile boundary line, rival fleets of war on the Great Lakes and Atlantic and Pacific coasts, and standing armies ready to fly at each other's throats! And had such preparations for war been made, is it not merely possible but probable that on occasions in the past when relations became delicate and somewhat strained, recourse would have been had to the rifle and cannon rather than to the peaceful means of arbitration? And what has been possible on the North American continent is surely at least worth a fair trial in Europe and between all countries.

The ceremonies attendant on the opening of this International Peace Arch were not only impressive, but provide a sound guarantee of a maintenance of those friendly relations under which both countries have prospered. The longer the peace remains unbroken, the less likelihood there is that it ever will be broken. That old treaty of Ghent still stands, but it has been buttressed in these later years by a second treaty between the two countries which provides that all causes of dispute between them shall be submitted to an impartial court of arbitration.

At the opening ceremony the United States flag on the Arch was raised by a British Columbia girl and the British flag by an American girl. Emphasizing the common ancestry of both people, the ceremony took place on the same date as that on which the Pilgrim Fathers went on board the Mayflower. The Arch itself carries across the plinth on the United States' side the words, "Children of a Common Mother," and on the Canadian side the words, "Brethren Dwelling Together in Unity." The doors of the great Arch bear the inscriptions: "Open for One Hundred Years; May These Doors Never Be Closed."

This wish will find an echo in the hearts of all British and United States subjects, coupled with an ardent desire that disarmament may not be confined to these two great English-speaking nations, but that it may be extended to include all nations, races and languages until open portals stand on all international boundary lines testifying to the real brotherhood of man.

PAINFUL NEURALGIA TORTURING SCIATICA

Both Come From the Same Cause—Thin, Watery Blood.

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Different nerves are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with hot applications, but real relief from the trouble comes by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are strongly recommended. These pills make new, rich blood and thus act as a most effective nerve tonic. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial, and note the ease and comfort that follows their use.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50. Write The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Elevators in Manitoba

Expected That System Will Handle Five Million Bushels of Grain This Season.

One hundred government elevators with an average capacity of about twenty-five thousand bushels each, or an aggregate capacity of 2,500,000 bushels, are taking care of their share of this year's crop in Manitoba. These elevators usually fill up about twice at least during the season, so that they will actually handle approximately five million bushels of Manitoba grain this fall. Practically all of this will be wheat.

In all, there are 702 country elevators in Manitoba with a total capacity of 22,926,000 bushels, besides five large interior storage elevators capable of holding an additional 2,200,000 bushels of grain.

World's Smallest Railway

Independent Little Line in Highlands of Cumberland.

Canadian visitors to Europe, on landing at Liverpool or Southampton, are at once struck by the small size of British locomotives as compared with the mighty machines in American railway operation. Their astonishment, not unmixed with amusement, is, however, soon supplemented by admiration for the excellent running made on the English main lines, but if one's itinerary takes him into the lakelands and highlands of Cumberland he will there find an independent little line which is said to be "the smallest public railway in the world." This line is known as the Eskdale Railway, and is seven and one-eighth miles in length. The rail gauge is one of fifteen inches only. It is leased to a London company—Narrow Gauge Railways, Limited. The passenger service is carried on by mid-gauge express engines, built to a scale of one-quarter the size of ordinary British main line locomotives, but in other respects exactly the same in construction and appearance.

Duffield Live Stock Shipping.

In my last letter about shipping live stock, I wrote about shipping hogs "LCL," or "less than carload lots." The train agent would not do such a thing, but the freight clerks thought it was alright.

Well, during this shipment, I was advised to go to a certain store on Jasper avenue, and I did so, and found they had a man in a glass case. I was told if I would ring a "Bell," I would learn a lot more about freight classifications.

Well, I found a kindly old gentleman, who adjusted his spectacles, and, after poring long and earnestly over his copy of The Stony Plain Sun, began to explain about a wonderful body of men known as the Board of Railway Commissioners.

It seems that, some time ago, they made a law that farmers—after obeying the urgent requests of Governments, Boards of Trade, and Patriotic bodies, and raising all the hogs they could—should have the privilege of shipping the hogs they had thus raised, in lots of seven, ten or fifteen direct to the stockyards or packing plants without having to sacrifice them to local buyers or even ship them co-operatively thru their local U. F. A.

The ordinary carload rate provides for over 80 hogs being shipped at once, and it hardly seemed fair that the men who had to ship, say 10 hogs, should have to pay as much as if they were shipping 80.

Well, the men that fixed up this tariff saw that the Railways were protected, by letting them charge 400 lbs. for the first hog and 200 lbs for each additional hog; and then, after protecting the Railway on the freights, they protected them on the rates by allowing them to charge double first-class. Also, the man in charge had to pay half fare in with the stock and full fare home again. In addition to this they made one slip and stated "BY SPECIAL PERMISSION."

Those few words upset the whole caboodle. They forgot to say who would give the farmer permission. If they had stated the section foreman, or the office boy in the freight sheds, or even the station agent at the nearest point, it would have been all right; but as they did not say who was to have the power to do this, it seems you must apply at the nearest station agent, and he will wire to the chief traffic manager in Edmonton, and he will apply to the head push of the western division at Winnipeg; and that is as far as the information went that the kindly old gentleman with the tortoise shell-rimmed spectacles could give me.

However, he explained there is another way that those 15 pigs could be shipped "LCL."

Supposing Mr. Farmer landed down at the depot about an hour before the local freight was due, with his 15 hogs; he can start the ball rolling by phoning-up for permission to ship those hogs; and, while he is waiting for the nearest local agent to wire Edmonton, and Edmonton to wire Winnipeg, he is hereby informed that he can ship those hogs LCL if he CRATES them.

Those 14 hogs must all be tailor-measured for crates. If he finds that an egg crate won't fit one, he can use a sewing-machine crate; and if that doesn't do, he can try a piano case; if he is shipping from Stony Plain, he can slip over to Armbruster & Hennig's and see if they have any spare caskets and rough boxes. Anyhow, if he gets a big enough move on, he can have those 15 hogs all looking beautiful in nice fancy crates before the local freight arrives.

As it does not say in the Tariff what the size of the crate has to be, he will be quite within his rights to use nothing smaller than what will just go into the car door.

Should he decide not to crate the hogs, for fear it uses up all the lumber in the district, he can wait around until the nearest local agent (who may be 20 miles off) wires Edmonton, and Edmonton wires Winnipeg. But there is one trouble ahead, and that is, it has been suggested that when the head push of the freight department at Winnipeg gets the request to allow those 15 hogs to travel on the local freight which is waiting at the station, he may decide that it is too big a proposition for him to tackle, and he would be exceeding his authority if he gave his sanction to such a serious matter thoughtlessly; and he wires down to Montreal.

The Montreal office is put in quite a flutter by such (Concluded on Page 8).

Stony Plain School Fair

The fair held yesterday at the local school had a large number of entries in the various classes and the exhibits reflected great credit on the industry and enterprise of the scholars.

There were some 40 classes open for competition, and a few of the pupils had entries in up to six and eight classes. The prize list was the largest yet, and the judges had some slight difficulty in picking the very best in some classes. The exhibit from the seeds donated in the Spring by the Dept. of Agriculture was exceptionally good. Principal Clarke, and Mr. McColl, Agriculture representative, are to be congratulated on the great success this year's Fair proved to be.

Roadwork Stopped

All work on public highways thruout the province was stopped last week by the Public Works Dept. Premier Greenfield explained that no prejudice was being shown to any locality, but that all over Alberta the same course was being followed.

The reason, the Premier said, was merely that the Government wishes to take stock. A large amount of work on the highways had been going on, and it was so scattered and so extensive that the new Government found it necessary to call a halt and find out just how much had been done and how much more would have to be done.

The suspension is only temporary, and work will be resumed as soon as possible in such cases as are found to be specially urgent.

CAN THE DEAF BE MADE TO HEAR?

This question can be answered both ways. If the deafness is due to Catarrh, success is general if the sufferer persists in the use of Catarrhizer, and thereby drives Catarrh out of the system. Penetrating through the passages of the ear, the soothing vapor of Catarrhizer relieves the inflammation, destroys the seeds of Catarrh and thereby allows nature to re-assert herself. The Homesteaders

He disengaged her, gently enough. As Beulah said, his heart was all right, but a long way in. Twenty-five years of pitched battle with circumstances—sometimes in victory, sometimes in defeat, but never in despair; always with a load of expense about him, always with the problem of income and outlay to be solved—had made of Harris a man very different from the young idealist of '92. During the first years of struggle for a bare existence in some way, the flame of idealism still burned, but with the dawn of the "better times" there came a gradual shifting of standards and a new conception of essentials. At first the settlers attached little value to their land; it was free for the taking, and excited no envy among them. The crops of the early years were unprofitable on account of the great distance from markets; later, when the railway came to their doors, the crops were still unprofitable, owing to falling prices and diminishing yields due to poor cultivation. Then came a decade during which those who stayed in the country stayed because they could not get out, and it became a current saying that the more land a man owned the deeper he got in debt. Homesteads were abandoned; settlers flew by night across the line or to more distant districts to begin their fight over again. And yet, in some way, Harris kept his idealism amid all the adversity in which the community was steeped; reverses could neither crush his spirit nor deflect it from its ambitions.

Then came the swing of the pendulum. No one knows just what started it, prosperity-wise. Some said it was that the farmers, disheartened with wheat-growing, were applying themselves to stock raising, and that in "mixed farming," the community eventually found its salvation; others attributed it to the use of improved agricultural implements, to improved methods of farming, to greater knowledge of soil conditions, to reductions in the cost of transportation and enlarged facilities for marketing, or to the rising world demand and higher world prices for the product of the farm. But whatever the causes—and no doubt all of the above contributed—the fact generally dawning upon the settlers that land—their land—was worth money.

It was the farmers from the United States, scouting for cheaper land than was available in their own communities, who first drove the cowboy home. They came with money in their wallets; they were actually prepared to exchange real money for land. Such a thing had never before been heard of in Plainville district. At first the settlers were sceptical. Here were two facts almost beyond the grasp of their imagination: that farmers should buy land with money, and the farmers should have money with which to buy land. True, a few of them had already bought railway lands at three or four dollars an acre, but they bought on long terms, with a trifling investment, and they aimed to pay for the lands out of the crops or not at all. But a few transactions took place; lands were sold at five dollars, eight dollars an acre. The farmers began to realize that land represented wealth—that it was an asset, not a liability—and there was a rush for the cheap railway lands that had so long gone begging. Harris was one of the first to sense the change in the times, and a beautiful section of railway land lay next to his homestead he bought at four dollars an acre. The first crop more than paid for the land, and Harris soon found himself on the way to riches.

The joy that came with the realization that fortune had knocked at his door and he had heard was the controlling emotion of his heart for a year or more. But gradually, like a fog blown across a moonlit night, came a sense of chill and disappointment. If only he had bought two sections! If at least he had proved up on his pre-emption, which he might have had for nothing! He saw neighbours about him adding quarter to quarter. None of them had done better than himself, but some had done as well. And in some way the old sense of oneness, the old community interest which had held the little band of pioneers together amid their privations and their poverty, began to weaken and dissolve, and in its place came an individualism and a materialism that measured progress only in dollars and cents. Harris did not know that his goal had fallen, that his ideals had been swept away; even as he sat this summer evening, with his daughter's arms about his neck, he felt that he was still bravely, persistently, pressing on toward the goal, all unaware that years ago he had left that goal like a lighthouse on a rocky shore, and was now sweeping along with the turbulent tide of Mammonism. He still saw the light ahead, but it was now a phantom. "When I am worth ten thousand I will have reached it," when he was worth ten thousand he found the faithless. "When I am worth twenty-five thousand I will have reached it," when he was worth twenty-five thousand he saw the glow still ahead, beckoning him on to fifty thousand. He never allowed him to slacken his pace—to allow his mind a rest from its concentration. If he had paused and looked about he might, even yet, have recognized the distant lighthouse on the reef about the wreck of his ideals. But to stop now might mean losing sight of his goal, and John Harris had nothing to live for, or earth so great as its attainment.

So gently enough, he disengaged his daughter's arms and vanished his supper in silence. As soon as it was ended the men started for the barn, and in a few minutes two wagons rattled noisily down the trail. Beulah helped with the supper dishes, and then came out with the milk-pails to the corral where the cows, puffing and chewing, complacently awaited her arrival. But she had not reached the gate when the hired man was at her side and had slipped one of the pails from her arm. "Now, Jim, I don't think that's fair at all," she said; and there was a tremor in her voice that vexed her, "you're not giving me any milk, coal and water, and I think that's enough, without milking cows at night."

But Jim only smiled and stirred a cow into position. "Yes, like you," she continued. "Pick Daisy first, just because you know she's tough as rubber. Say, Jim, honest goodness, I'm ashamed of you, and facing him, milk stool in hand, 'why do you let father put this kind of stuff over on you, you know your father doesn't put anything over on me,' he answered. 'I'm very fond of milking.'"

"Yes, you are not," she said. "You do it on my account, because you're too big-hearted to quit before I'm through."

There was a tuncful song of the tin pails as the white streams rattled on their bottoms. "Jim," she said, after a while, when the noise of the milking was drowned in the creamy froth, "I'm getting near the end of this kind of thing. Father's getting more and more set on money all the time. He thinks, should slave along too to pile up there beside what he's got already, but I'm not going to do it much longer. Mother stands it—I guess she's got used to him, and she won't say anything, but if there's anything I'm not strong on my silence, I'm not afraid of work, or hardship either. I'd live in a shack if I had to."

"Would you live in a shack?" said Jim. She shot a quick look at him. But he was quietly smiling into his milk-pail, and she decided to treat his question impersonally.

"Yes, I'd live in a shack, too, if I had to. I put in my first years in a sod-house, and there was more real happiness romping up and down the lane than there is now. In those days everybody was so poor that money didn't count. It's different now."

Jim did not pursue the subject, and the milking was completed in silence. Jim finished first, and presently the rising hum of the cream separator was heard from the kitchen.

"There he goes, winding his arm off for me," said the girl, as she rose from the last cow. "Jim—I wish I knew whether it's just human kindness makes him do it, or whether

Castoria, or Something Else?

FLETCHER'S CASTORIA is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations.

It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

Fletcher's Castoria having been prepared solely for our little-ones, should not be confused with ordinary cure-alls or preparations primarily compounded for grown-ups. The child's organism, so delicate and tender, requires specially prepared medicines and foods, the one no less than the other, as mother-love well knows, and mother-love can not be deceived.

Children Cry For

Fletcher's CASTORIA

What is the Matter with Baby?

It cries fretfully, is restless and does not sleep well, its bowels do not move or it has diarrhoea, it does not eat or it has flatulence and vomits easily. You know baby is sick. You want to help baby get well safely and quickly.

If you are wise you will use Fletcher's Castoria, the wonderful remedy for babies' ills, that was discovered by a family doctor and that has been used for over thirty years.

When you have learned the value of Fletcher's Castoria you will never be without it, you will tell other mothers what a useful remedy it is. You will be able to keep baby well and happy by using it to keep its stomach sweet and its digestive organs acting naturally. You will call Fletcher's Castoria the Children's Comfort and the Mother's Friend.

Don't say tomorrow—try it today. And above all things don't try to relieve baby with a remedy that you would use for yourself. MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA.

"She stopped, colouring a little over the thought that had almost escaped into words. When the heavy grind of the separating was finished Jim went quietly to his own room, but the girl put a clean dress and walked out through the garden. Rows of magnolias sweet, early garden smells filled the calm evening air; the rows of currant and gooseberry bushes were heavy with green fruit; the leaves of the Manitoba maples trembled ever so little in the still air. The sun was setting, and fleecy fragments of cloud were painted ruddy gold against the silver background of the sky. From the barnyard came the contented sniffing of the cows and the anxious clucking of a hen gathering in her belated brood. The whole country seemed bathed in peace—a peace deep and unapproachable, having no part in any of the efforts of the world."

At the lower gate she stopped to pick a flower, which she held for a moment in her fingers, then lovingly laying it with it in her fingers, she slipped the latch and continued along the path leading down into the ravine. It was dark and cool down there, with a touch of dampness in the grass, and the faintly-scented air of the stream sent a fine moist fragrance through the air. To the right lay the bench where the sod-house had stood, not so much as a pound now marking the spot; but the thoughts of the girl turned yearningly to it, and in the days of the lonely but not unhappy childhood which it had sheltered. (To be continued)

No child should be allowed to suffer an hour from worms when prompt relief can be got in a simple but strong remedy—Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

Taft Refers To Debt That The U. S. Owes To British Law

Ottawa.—William Howard Taft, chief justice of the United States, speaking before the Canadian Bar Association here paid tribute to British law and to British lawyers, and declared that "the thought of the British bar was always sweet, as it must be, to all those in the United States who realize the debt the United States owed to British law." Mr. Taft was greeted with continued cheering at the conclusion, and a resolution congratulating him on his appointment to the chief justiceship of the United States, proposed by Justice Riddell, Toronto, carried unanimously.

"I feel like saying, 'Here I am again,' Mr. Taft continued. 'I have the home feeling here. In Ottawa I meet people and greet them with the same feeling as I do people in New Haven, New York and even Washington. I have no feeling of a boundary line at all. I have been in politics and have sat on both sides of the line. I have sat on the bench on both sides and have realized in these decades the errors of men.' It was an honor for the American bar to have their representatives invited to attend the Canadian Bar Association meeting. It made for the firmer establishing of the friendship which did and must exist between the two countries. Congratulating the Canadian Bar Association, Mr. Taft said the American Bar Association regarded itself as the parent of the Canadian Association inasmuch as the convention of the American Association at Montreal in 1913 first brought the idea to the profession in Canada.

In the United States they were attempting to secure 18 additional district judges to deal with the cases arising out of the 18th amendment. This remark brought another outburst of laughter, which was renewed when Mr. Taft explained that these judges would be used as judicial light cavalry and would be annexed where the rush of cases demanded.

TOO ILL TO GO TO SCHOOL

Mother Tells how Daughter was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Cobourg, Ont.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me for my daughter. She had trouble every month which left her in a weak and nervous condition with weak back and pain in her right side. She had these troubles for three years and frequently was unable to attend school. She has become regular and feels much better since she began taking the Vegetable Compound and attends school regularly. She is gaining steadily and I have no hesitancy in recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine."—Mrs. John Toms, Ball St., Cobourg, Ont.

Standing all day or sitting in cramped positions, young girls contract deranged conditions, and develop headache, backache, irregularity, nervousness and bearing-down pains, all of which are symptoms of woman's ill. Every mother who has a daughter suffering from such symptoms should give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

Sinn Fein Invited To Conference

British Cabinet Insists That Ireland Must Remain Within Empire.

London.—The British Cabinet has invited Mr. de Valera to send delegates to a conference with the Cabinet Ministers at Inverness on September 20, according to the Daily Mail, Inverness correspondent, who adds: "Only one condition is imposed namely, on the understanding that Ireland must remain within the Empire."

The communication to Mr. de Valera, according to this dispatch, asks for an early reply and points out the apparent uselessness of conducting negotiations by a further exchange of notes. In order to allay any fears regarding Ulster the decision that Northern Ireland must not in any circumstances be coerced was reaffirmed by the ministers.

Cattle Stealing Charges

Stock Has Been Returned to Canadian Owners by U.S. Sheriffs.

Lettingbridge, Alta.—James R. Leach, a Montana rancher living along the border, and James Muir, one of the cowboys of his outfit, were committed for trial at Coombs on a charge of stealing cattle from the Wallace, Ross and Webster outfits on the Alberta side of the line. Eight cattle involved in the alleged thefts have been gathered up by Montana sheriffs and turned over to their Canadian owners. Brand running was the method used in the operations, according to the evidence, and Sheriff Morgan, of Liberty County, Montana, testified that when he arrested Leach at Chester he admitted his guilt.

Increase Lake Rates

For Grain Shipments

Will Cost the Farmer One and a Half Cents a Bushel More.

Winnipeg.—Lake freights on grain from Port William and Port Arthur to Georgian Bay points have been advanced 1½ cents a bushel this week. Officials of the vessel owning companies say this is due to the demand from Chicago for tonnage and Canadian shippers must pay a premium to induce boats to come to the lake head for cargoes.

Grain Men Elect Officers.

Calgary.—M. J. Thordarson, manager of the Calgary branch of the N. Bawlf Grain Company, was elected president of the Western Grain Dealers' Association at the annual meeting held in the Grain Exchange.

H. O. Heimbecker, of Parrish and Heimbecker, Calgary, was elected vice-president, and D. O. McHugh was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Annual reports were received and approved.

Cambridge, Mass.—Plans of B. McAffee, a United States scientist now in London, and Prof. David Todd, for taking snapshots of Mars by using a mine shaft in Chile as the barrel of a special telescope, are "impracticable" and offer no possibility of success, in the opinion of Prof. S. I. Bailey, director of the Harvard Observatory.

Unemployment Conference.

Ottawa.—It is doubtful whether any steps will be taken toward calling a conference of representatives of the financial interests to meet with members of the employment service council at its meeting. A final decision of the matter, however, has not yet been reached by Hon. G. D. Robertson, minister of labor, to whom the resolution was addressed.

Greeks Still Advance

Turk Army Is Unable to Resist the Greek Forces.

Greek General Headquarters in Asia Minor.—Turkish Nationalist forces have been driven from new positions occupied on September 1, but have retired slowly, defending every inch of the ground. "On Tuesday night, the Turks launched wild attacks and succeeded temporarily in re-occupying their lost positions, but later were again driven out.

Unofficial estimates place the Turkish losses at 12,000 killed and wounded. The Greek losses are unknown, but are said to be heavy.

Serious Fire at Digby.

Digby, N.S.—A lighted cigarette thrown into the stables at the rear of the Queen's Hotel is said to have been the cause of a fire which wiped out approximately one-third of the town of Annapolis Royal, the oldest white settlement north of Virginia on the American continent, and one of the most beautiful residential towns in Canada.

Riga.—The United States steamer Phoenix has taken into Petrograd the first contingent of United States food for the starving children of Russia, says a despatch to the Letvin Telegraph Agency from Moscow. The vessel sailed from Hamburg. The American Relief Administration on Monday sent its first train direct to Samara from Moscow.

Grain Shipments

Break All Records

Officials State Movement Well Ahead of Other Years.

Winnipeg.—All previous records for volume and early shipment of grain over the Canadian Pacific Railway western lines have been shattered this season.

Wheat and other grains shipped east up to this time has passed the eight million bushel mark and this in a measure, it is stated, accounts for reported congestion in Montreal. Of wheat, 5,419 cars have been handled aggregating 7,402,354 bushels and 380 cars of coarse grains have carried 1,020,400 bushels. Early harvest and threshing, and the course of many farmers in putting the grain on the market without delay is responsible for the heavy movement eastwards.

Preparing For Elections

Once Dissolution Takes Place and Writs Are Issued There Remains Only Routine Work.

Ottawa.—The necessary machinery for carrying out the coming general election is all ready. "Once dissolution takes place and the writs for a general election are issued, there only remains the need for expressing all the necessary forms and documents to the returning officers in the various constituencies. At the office of the chief electoral officer, preparations have been made for despatching the necessary forms immediately the writ is issued and election officers throughout the Dominion will at the same time receive full printed instructions as to their duties.

With the exception of Saskatchewan and Prince Edward Island, there already exist in the different provinces, lists of voters which will be used as the basis of lists to be prepared for the coming general election. In each case the lists will be brought up to date as provided by the Dominion Elections Act, revising officers and registrars being appointed as required.

Western Newspaper Changes Ownership

Capt. T. Barradell, who has taken over the control of the Milestone Mail.

A change affecting one of the brightest of Saskatchewan's weekly newspapers recently took place, when the ownership of the Milestone Mail passed from the hands of R. G. Aspin to Capt. T. Barradell, M.C. The new proprietor of the Milestone Mail comes from Derby, Eng., where he occupied the position of works manager in one of the large newspaper offices there. Capt. Barradell served with distinction throughout the Great War. He was attached to the North Midland Field Ambulance and Northumbrian Field Ambulance. He saw active service on the Somme, Flanders and Champagne fronts, and took part in the last two German offensives. Capt. Barradell was decorated with the M.C. for gallantry and devotion to duty by remaining behind under heavy shell fire and clearing all wounded from a battery of Royal Horse Artillery during the German advance. Also for three days and four nights evacuating wounded and getting dressings and supplies to most difficult positions. Prior to the war he served with the 1st V.B. North Midland Brigade, Bersers, Sherwood Foresters Beaser Company and the 1st North Midland Field Ambulance.

The Undesirable Scrub Bull

That invariably defective a dim 1 the scrub bull, is being gradually eliminated. The Live Stock Branch at Ottawa, by its policy of loaning pure-bred bulls a specially organized association in the newly settled districts and in backward sections of the older provinces, is doing much towards achieving this end. In the seven years following the inauguration of the policy in 1913, 2,531, bulls purchased for $368, 569 an average of $144.85 per head, had been loaned. Of these, British Columbia has had 119, Alberta 497, Saskatchewan 539, Manitoba 220, Ontario 216, Quebec 739, New Brunswick 64, Nova Scotia 79 and Prince Edward Islands 38. Returns substantiate the statement that where these bulls have been used the there has been a considerable improvement in the stock marketed, and that in many districts to which bulls were loaned 5 or 6 years ago, farmers have felt warranted in trying pure-bred animals of their own. As a result, debilitated, loaned sires are released and sent to more needy districts. This is particularly noticeable in Quebec, where the number loaned decreased from 200 in 1916 to 62 in 1919, while in Alberta and Saskatchewan the loanings had increased. It is interesting to note as evidence of the economy practised in carrying out the policy that in one year 426 bulls whose usefulness had been impaired were sold for an average of 67 p.c. of their original cost.

Do you know what constitutes a strong constitution?

To have sound, healthy nerves, completely under control, digestive organs that are capable of absorbing a hearty meal, means you have a strong constitution! Your general attitude is one of optimism and energy.

But an irritable disposition, frequent attacks of indigestion, and a languid depression, indicate your system is not in correct working order.

Probably you are not eating the proper food. Probably the nutritious elements are not being supplied to your system in the proper way.

Grape-Nuts is the wholesome, delicious cereal that promotes normal digestion, absorption and elimination, whereby nourishment is accomplished without auto-intoxication. A mixture of energy-giving wheat and malted barley comprise the chief elements of Grape-Nuts. A dish at breakfast or lunch is an excellent, wholesome rule to follow.

You can order Grape-Nuts at any and every hotel, restaurant, dining room, on dining cars, on lake boats and steamers; in every good grocery, large and small, in every city, town or village in Canada.

"Don't waste your money, woman," replied Jacob, soothingly. "It wasn't a coin—it was only a brass button."

PAINFUL DIARRHOEA CRAMPS IN STOMACH

Mr. Fred Funston, Craik, Sask., writes:—"A year ago last harvest I was taken with a sudden attack of diarrhoea which completely laid me out, and in a few hours I had to quit work. The cramps in my stomach would stand out on my face at last I was in such great distress. At last I got a chance to send to town for a couple of bottles of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I tried it according to the way I felt and soon obtained a great change for the better. I don't know what the cause of my sickness was except the extremely hot weather and the active work of stooking the wheat."

Several of my neighbors were taken the same as myself and had the doctor attend them, but they didn't get any great relief until I advised them to use "Dr. Fowler's," when they soon experienced a great change. Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been on the market for the past 76 years and many cheap imitations are being offered to the public.

A Novel Sport Coat

By Marie Belmont.

The sport coat appears in many a different guise, for it has various functions to fulfill. Sometimes it is demanded by the woman who goes in strenuously for athletics, or it may be worn by she who watches the players. This rather redecorated model belongs to the latter class. It is made of yellow flannel. The fronts, which arc, extended at the sides to form pockets, are outlined with bands of black crepe. The cuffs are similarly adorned. The collar is high and is enriched with black wool embroidery. This also appears on the sleeves, which are very wide.

WOULD NOT BE WITHOUT BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. W. Beesley, Mille Roche, Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past eight months and would not be without them. I used them for indigestion and teething and my baby is cutting his teeth without any trouble whatever. I can highly recommend the Tablets to other mothers. What Mrs. Beesley says thousands of other mothers say. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus driving out constipation and indigestion and making teething easy. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mr. Slowboy—That's nice of you today so. Here's a quarter.
Willie—Yes, she says Mr. Thompson always musses her hair so.

Was Flat On His Back In Bed A Whole Month, Declares Thompson

"The very first few doses of Tanlac I took made me feel better, and now my stomach seems just like a new one," said Samuel Thompson, 172 Peters ave., Winnipeg, Man.

"I was in very bad shape before I got Tanlac. My health broke down a year ago, and I got to where I was little more than a physical wreck. I was flat on my back in bed for a month, and when I got up the life of me seemed to be gone. I hardly had strength enough to get around, and my appetite was very poor. I soon commenced suffering from indigestion so bad I just hated the thought of eating, for my food soured and I was kept bloated and in agony all the time. "I finally started taking Tanlac, however, and by the time I had finished my second bottle I was eating heartily. I've taken five bottles now and can eat and enjoy anything I want and feel as well as I ever did in my life. I am glad to recommend Tanlac, for I believe it will help anyone suffering from stomach trouble." Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

It Testifies for Itself.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil needs no testimonial of its powers other than itself. Who ever tries it for coughs or colds, or cuts or contusions, for sprains or burns, for pains in the limbs or body, will know that the medicine proves itself and needs no guarantee. This shows why this Oil is in general use.

Publishers' Costs Mounting.

The postmaster-general has notified newspaper publishers that the rate of postage on newspapers sent from the office of publication will be doubled on and after the first of January next. There was a big increase in the rate last January and now it is to go up again. The printers' costs are mounting rather than diminishing.—From the Orillia Packet.

DUFFIELD LIVE STOCK SHIPPING.

an unusual demand as a farmer—particularly a Western farmer—wanting to ship 15 at anything less than the rate for 80 hogs; and, after a consultation with all the heads of the different departments, decides that it will be necessary to submit it to Parliament, and have a special Act passed at the next session permitting those 15 hogs to travel on the Canadian National Railways; and in the meantime they wire back to Winnipeg; and Winnipeg wires to Edmonton; and Edmonton wires to the nearest local agent; and the local agent scratches his head and says "D—n" because this is the copy of the wire he gets:

"Has the farmer brought a certificate from the nearest clergyman and schoolmaster, stating if those hogs are of good character and well behaved? Can the local Vet. vouch for the ancestry of those hogs? Has the farmer taken his affidavit before the nearest Commissioner that none of those hogs are addicted to gluttony or heavy drinking? Can the section foreman prove that each hog has had a bath and had its hair combed and brushed and been properly perfumed?"

Answer must be sent within the next ten days, as a special board meeting has been called to consider the advisability of allowing those hogs to contaminate the rolling stock of the Company.

The station agent gets into communication with the farmer thru the mail, and the farmer decides to move his family down to the Stockyards, so that some of them can take care of those hogs until the fatal decision arrives.

In the meantime those hogs, which were one time selecta, have passed thru the light heavy stage; then the medium heavy; then the very heavy. And the farmer's family is fast becoming grey-headed with anxiety and worry about the final decision of the Railway Company officials.

So, after all, the train agent is right; and, until there is a change of Government, or the expense of running the Railway can be reduced, he refuses to allow farmers to ship L.C.I., notwithstanding the Tariff says they can do so "with special permission."

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM BEST.
